Hi Bill,

I tried to call you but u were not available

Here is the info on IARC participants.

Peter Egegy (ORD) and Catherine Eiden (PRD) did not attend the meeting.

Mathew Martin was a voting member of the Work Group that evaluated these chemicals.

Lauren Zeise, was a voting member of the Work Group from Cal EPA

I was a representative of U.S. EPA. However, in accordance with the IARC Preamble, could not participate in their evaluations or decisions

Let me know if u need additional info.

As I understand, the final assessment from IARC is not out. Does anyone in OCSPF recognize these researchers listed below? ORD perhaps? Vice media has reached out to IARC.

Some of the IARC participants from the EPA are Peter P. Egeghy, Matthew T. Martin, Lauren Zeise, Catherine Eiden and Jesudosh Rowland.

I hope you are well. We are in the process of editing our documentary and I have a follow up question for you.

We are interested in interviewing a scientist who can speak about the health impacts of glyphosate and the recent IARC-WHO assessment regarding glyphosate's classification as a possible carcinogen, ideally someone who was involved in the assessment. Some of the IARC participants from the EPA are Peter P. Egeghy, Matthew T. Martin, Lauren Zeise, Catherine Eiden and Jesudosh Rowland.

Do you have any time today for a phone call? I'd like to chat with you about what we are looking for and see if any EPA representatives are available for an interview. We are on a very tight deadline and we really appreciate any assistance you can provide us.
