Dear Pesticide Review Board,

A new paper has been released to the public disclosing that the EPA and Monsanto knew that glyphosate is carcinogenic since 1983. This paper clearly describes how glyphosate also impacts the male test species much more than females as well. The harm displayed in this paper from hormone changes to tumors, which is sourced from the very studies which have been in your possession for decades, makes it obvious to us that the re approval of the license of glyphosate would be an intentionally harmful act against the American public.

There is no circumstance which would justify an approval of glyphosate to be allowed on our food, air, water or soil.

We expect a bold but necessary decision by your board to deny the approval of the license of glyphosate and to protect the American people.

Thank you.
